LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF ADRIAN VALE

Blackthorn House

I, Adrian Vale, of Blackthorn House, being of sound mind and suspicious disposition, declare this to be my last will. It revokes every earlier will, including the one I wrote on a napkin in 1998.

Article 1. Blackthorn House. The house and its grounds pass to the Vale Family Trust, for the use of my family. The thermostat stays where I set it.

Article 2. Blackthorn Security. My voting shares in Blackthorn Security pass to my children, Evelyn Vale and Marcus Vale, in equal parts. They may vote them however they like, provided they do it in the same room.

Article 3. Bequests. To my niece, Nina Park, I leave my books and the right to say she told me so. To Theo Grant, I leave the wine cellar, including its door, whose battery is now his problem.

Article 4. The Trustee. Celeste Ward serves as Trustee of the Vale Family Trust. If any heir is judged unfit to serve, the Trustee shall hold and vote that heir's shares in Blackthorn Security until the Trustee decides otherwise. The Trustee alone judges fitness.

Article 5. Integrity. The only authentic copy of this will is the one whose SHA-256 checksum matches the receipt I filed in the estate archive on the day I signed it. Trust the signed hash, not the filename.

Signed at Blackthorn House on 29 October 2026.
